CONTENTS

In this module we will try to verify the acquisition of the set of competences that will have been acquired in the rest of the study program. Practice, in centers of proven quality, is an irreplaceable element for the training of a criminologist. On the one hand they help a lot in the assessment of the training received. Facing reality encourages knowing how to be, be and know everything possible. It is intended with the practices that theory and practice feed each other. We will take special care in monitoring and tutoring both by the University tutors and by the tutors of the centers, articulating a fluid and systematic relationship that enables the achievement of objectives and competencies.
